SECTION B

51. Read the passage and answer questions that follow in full sentences.

In 1987, a deadly disease broke out in the district of Rakai. It killed quite a number of people before it was identified. Among the first victims were a magistrate and his two court brokers. The disease looked strange but had symptoms similar to a bewitched person. A human being would become slim, have rough skin and at times would diarrhoea.

Researchers and scientists from Uganda and neighbouring countries discovered that it was. They further found out that is mainly spread through sex. However the researchers have not discovered the cure yet but have encouraged the use of ARV's which reduce the pain and improves on the health of the victim.

The disease is still number one killer disease compared to malaria. It kills the young, rich, educated and even religious leaders. It is therefore advisable to test for AIDS and behave even responsibly for life is precious.

We salute the NRM government and NGO for making people aware of the disease. Abstinence is the best sure way of avoiding AIDS but those who can't use condoms. Together we can fight the disease.

Praise the Lord

I will praise him as long as I live
I will sing to my God all my life
Don't put your trust in human leaders
When they die, they return to dust
All their plans end that day

Happy are those who rejoice in the Lord
And trust Him as their provider
He always keeps his promises
And will never let you down

He gives food to the hungry and those in need
Sets prisons free
Gives sight to the blind
Lifts those who have fallen
Helps widows and orphans
Loves the righteous people
But cancels plans of the devil.
