The country veterinary officer of Bungo was visiting all the livestock farmers of the area. When he reached Luguba village, he met some school children. They were talking about Mr. Mwono's farm animals. They felt sad that this man did not treat his animals well. All his animals had body signs of torture. The veterinarian listened carefully and he asked the children to direct him to the farm.

After a few minutes, he had reached the farm. Mr. Mwono had gone to a neighbour's home. This gave the officer chance to look at the animals well. The sheds had not been cleaned for long. They smelt animal urine and dung. The sheep and goats had ticks all over their bodies. They were really sick. Some of the dogs had bleeding tails because they had been poorly docked. The officer was shocked. He rang the police. They came and picked Mr. Mwono. There he was instructed to make sure all the animals were back to normal within three weeks.

Accident! Oh accidents!

At the roundabouts, junctions and corners

Due to careless driving and riding

Not forgetting overloading and speeding.

Accidents! Oh accidents!

Why attack us suddenly always?

That time children play along the road

And when motorists drive drunkenly.

Behold country men and women
Careful we ought to be on the road
Reading and following the road signs is the way to go
Driving at a reasonable speed a better resolution
Respect for all road users, the final advice I give!
