Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Nkinzi a Hima girl, like other Hima girls, looks after her father's cattle during holidays. This activity keeps her out of home from dawn to dusk. One morning, Nkinzi could not find her skin sandals. This type of sandals are worn by cattle herders, to guard their feet against horns and sharp stones. She therefore went barefoot to the grazing area.

Nkinzi is a person who enjoys her job, but on this particular day, it was different. Her feet were badly pricked by thorns. Worse still, they were hurt by sharp stones too. As a result, they could not move any more so she sat under a tree to rest and fell asleep. The cattle were grazing near a maize garden. They invaded this garden and destroyed part of the crops.

At this time, the owner of the garden noticed the animals. He rushed to the scene but it was too late to save part of his crops. He was too shocked to say a word! He angrily chased the animals out of his garden.

Nkizi was immediately awoken up by the footsteps of the running cattle. She then asked him where he was taking the animals. Without a word, the angry man hit her with a stick and she collapsed. "So, these are your cattle?" he asked "Look at my garden!" Nkizi realized her mistake and painfully said, "Excuse me sir, I am sorry. Look at my feet full of thorns. They are so painful that I am unable to run after the animals. My sandals got lost at home. Please forgive me."

Mafuta then felt pity and said, "I am sorry. I see that it was not your fault. I shall meet your father and talk to him about my destroyed crops."
