THE YOUTH CAMP

Kato and Babirye are in the same class but go to different schools. Kato goes to Wango Junior Boy's school. His sister Babirye goes to Ngale Junior Girl's School. Whenever they break up for holidays, their parents pick them from school.

After two to three days home, Kato and Babirye make a holiday programme with their parents. The programme depends on how long the holiday will take and the activities to be involved.

Last December, Kato and Babirye's holiday programme had two main activities. Travelling to their grandparents in the village for Christmas and attending the youth camp. Travelling to the village excited them more because they had taken five years without going there. Every evening their grandmother would tell them interesting stories. She would also give them plenty of fruits from her garden.

When they returned from the village, it was time for the youth camp. They joined the rest of the youth at Najja Community Hall. During their stay at the camp, the teachers taught them different things. They learnt the importance of appreciating themselves and the need to grow up socially, academically and morally sound. They also learnt skills of making money through baking, weaving, knitting and tailoring. Rearing of birds and animals was another way of making money.
